Dear Classmates:

We have walked down Fermi's hallways for the past four years together and now we will be venturing off in new directions, the paths we create for our futures. Although our paths will go in different directions, we will always remember the education and the friendships we have attained here at Fermi High School.

We have faced many challenges and learned from our mistakes. Fermi has been a place for us to grow and mature in our adolescent years. We've shared happy moments when we have rejoiced as a class. We cried together when we mourned the losses of those classmates whom we love so dearly.

It is now time to say goodbye. Though we will leave these hallways, we will learn from what we leave behind and carry these memories with us. For what we've shared here at Fermi is something that we can't leave behind.

Best of luck in the future

We Will Never Forget You . . .

Those we love
Remain with us,
For love itself lives on
And cherished memories never fade
because a loved one's gone
Those we love
Can never be
More than a thought apart,
For as long as there is memory,
They'll live on in the heart.

Enfield Teacher of the Year

Mrs. Heye works with Model U.N. members in her classroom.

Fermi High School is lucky to have Mrs. Ellen Heye as part of our teaching staff. She has been a member of the Enfield School System for more than 20 years. At the beginning of 1992 Mrs. Heye was awarded the Teacher of the Year Award. To understand why this award was so well deserved by Mrs. Heye, all you need to do is question any of the students she has taught. These students will tell you that no matter who you are, she treats you as an individual with potential.

Mrs. Heye was "turned on" to history by her eighth grade Ancient History teacher. She says, "this teacher influenced the direction of my life and she never knew it." Mrs. Heye has come to be an inspiration to many students at Fermi.

Not only is it students that Mrs. Heye has gained respect from during her career, but from her colleagues as well. As her Department Chairperson, Tom Ouellette believes "Part of the secret to this teacher's success is revealed the moment one enters her classroom. She is tuned in to young people."

Mrs. Heye's influences goes beyond the school classroom. Model UN is one of the most active clubs at Fermi, and Mrs. Heye has been its enthusiastic advisor for several years.

Mrs. Heye has been able to gain the respect she enjoys by believing that teaching is an important job. In doing her job well she teaches a student more than any commercials, television shows, or music videos possibly can.

Congratulations, Mrs. Heye!

Mrs. Heye checks her rank book as she prepares for class.

Mrs. Burke representing ADK, a sorority of women educators, presents a plaque to Mrs. Heye, our teacher of the year.

Principal William S. Cutler

TO THE SENIOR CLASS

As I reflected over the past four years in search of some appropriate remarks to share with you, I couldn't help but be stunned at the turmoil you have witnessed on the world scene during your high school tenure. You have experienced tragedy each year at school with the loss of a teacher, classmates and friends. You have seen the United States drawn into war and have participated in the support of our troops both as they were in the Middle East and as they returned home. You have witnessed the final days of our long time super power opponent of the cold war, the Soviet Union. You have, in fact, been more a part of changing history than most classes before you.

I believe that this is a portent of things to come for the class of 1993. You have seen from a distance the impact of change. You are now going forward into the world to be agents of change. Remember these recent events of history and their impact on our lives. Take the roots of your education gained here at Fermi and make the changes necessary in the world you now enter to make it a better place for all of us. Strive for excellence, equality for all and world peace — the opportunity to change things for the better is now with you.

From all of us on the Fermi Staff we wish you the very best.

— William S. Cutler

Mr. Richard Askin
Red House

The three vice-principals at Fermi function as a team to keep the school running smoothly. Each has his own style, personality and strength which blend well together.

All three were classroom teachers when they started their careers. Mr. Marr taught Math, Mr. Askin was a Spanish teacher, and Mr. Ross taught Science. They became administrators for a variety of reasons. Mr. Marr wanted to contribute to the development of staff potential through the evaluation system. Mr. Askin felt that he could have some positive impact on a greater number of students than those he met on a daily basis in class. Mr. Ross says that he became an administrator so that he could harass his colleagues!

Although their days are filled with handling many problem areas, our vice-principals are very visible in the halls with a friendly word or a smile for their students.

FRIENDLY SUPPORT

The women who work as support personnel in our school are a vital part of our everyday lives. They work in the offices, the library and the Career Center where they deal with all the students in school.

We are used to seeing them at their own work sites, but many have held other interesting jobs as well. Mrs. Smith, who runs the career center, was a Psychiatric Technician at the Institute of Living in Hartford. Mrs. Scougall, Guidance, was secretary at Prudence Crandall Elementary school. Mrs. Twitchell, Special Ed. secretary, was a Dental Assistant. Mrs. Dunn, Guidance, worked in Pupil Services at the Central Office. Mrs. Monke, Library Assistant, was Assistant Secretary to the Superintendent of Schools in Suffield while Mrs. Jacobson, also Library Assistant, worked at the Enfield Central Library in the children's room.

All agreed that they enjoy working with the students at Fermi where there is never a dull moment — Some even keep an eye on their own children (no names mentioned!).

Dear Diary,

I'm really excited about my sophomore year. I finally jumped out of the underclassman rut, and there won't be another initiation day for me!

I have so many events to look forward to: Getting my driver's license, getting my class ring and hopefully getting that brand-new Corvette. Please Mom!

Next week my class will take the Harrington O'Shea Career Test. Oh joy! I wonder if I was correct in choosing Toepainting as my future occupation. Although basket-weaving sounds good too!

Sincerely,
Ima Sophomore

THE GAME OF HIGH SCHOOL

START AS A FRESHMAN

Play a fall sport and get a head start on meeting people. 2 Bonus Points

Go to the wrong lunch wave two days in a row. 2 EP Points

Your friend's older brother brings you to school. 1 Bonus Point

You ask the kid who sits next to you in Algebra, for a date, she/he says no. 1 Stress Point

Make honor roll for the first quarter; your parents are happy because they get a bumper sticker. 1 Bonus Point

Wear a Starter jacket and a tight mini skirt to school. 3 EP Points

Get sick dissecting the fetal pig in Biology. 1 Stress Point

While standing at the bus stop during a blizzard, a senior drives by, beeps, but keeps going. 2 EP Points

Student of the Month for January!!! 2 Bonus Points

Get caught in Public Displays of Affection in the hall. LOSE TURN.

SOPHOMORE

The day has come when you're not a Freshman anymore. 2 Bonus Points

Last year of swimming in Gym. 1 Bonus Point

Lose your class ring; your parents are going to kill you. 1 Stress Point

You turn 16 and your parents say you can date. 1 Bonus Point

Get your class ring. 1 Bonus Point

Earn your first Varsity Letter. 1 Bonus Point

RULES OF THE GAME

The game is of a typical four year journey through Fermi High School. It consists of different events and problems that you will have to deal with in high school.

Any number of people can play at one time. You need a small token or coin to keep your place. Take turns by rolling a die and moving the number of spaces indicated. Do what the space tells you to do. If you land on a blank space, do nothing.

You will need a piece of paper to keep track of the number of bonus points, stress points and embarrassment points. (EP's) One bonus point removes a stress point or an EP Point, but it must be done in the same year the bonus point was earned. At the end of each year, all extra bonus points are lost. Stress and EP points continue to accumulate.

The game is over when the last player graduates! Have Fun!

Erin Yarum

Microphone turns off on you at the Senior Variety Show. 1 EP Point

Mid-year grades come out: will you or won't you graduate? 2 Stress Points

Counselors lose school records. 1 Stress Point

Graduation has finally come; REAL life begins. 2 Bonus Points

College applications due, and you only have one essay written. 1 Stress Point

"Senioritis" hits, and it's only November. LOSE TURN

Freshman has a crush on you. 1 EP Point

Decide you are now old enough to suck on pacifiers in school. 1 EP Point

Realize it's the last year with all your friends. 2 Stress Points

Job schedule cuts off social life. LOST TURN

First day of school — none of the classes you signed up for are on your schedule. 1 Stress Point

Begin to develop your own style. 1 Bonus Point

Take the SAT's to get a head start on things. 1 Bonus Point

Finally, a SENIOR; last year of dealing with freshmen and crowded halls. 2 Bonus Points

Allowed to stay out later on dates, if you can find any. 1 Bonus Point

Do really bad on PSAT's; start worrying about SAT's. 1 Stress Point

Not asked to Junior Prom. 2 Stress Points

You are finally an Upper-classman. 1 Bonus Point

Parents demand college-level grades. 2 Stress Points

SENIORS

A secret admirer leaves a note in your locker. 1 Bonus Point

Go for your license and run a red light; you have to take it again. 1 Stress Point

Allowed to sit with seniors at lunch. 2 Bonus Points

Braces come off, and people finally notice you. 1 Bonus Point

To get a job or not get a job. 1 Stress Point

Go for your license and pass with flying colors. 2 Bonus Points

SCORING

When the game is over, add up all of your EP's and stress points. Two EP's equal one stress point. All fractions are to be rounded down. After adding the EP and Stress points, look below to see what kind of person you will be after high school.

20 points or more — you will be easily influenced by other people. You will be very interested in money but will be too shy and quiet to ask for a raise.

10 to 20 points — you will have a lot of stress in your life and should be careful about high blood pressure. You may have a hard time deciding whether to have a family or a job, or you may have a hard time managing the two.

10 or less — Life will be enjoyable and peaceful. You will have the perfect family with the perfect house and the perfect job.

ILLIARDS

The Billiard Club meets on Thursdays from 2:30 to 4:00 at Pool Table Magic. Fermi students enjoy the fun and competition of playing this game.

Students learn proper fundamentals and advanced techniques to improve their game from a former touring professional and certified instructor.

Team competition is the weekly format with two member teams selected each week from three ability levels, beginner, intermediate, and advanced. Awards and trophies are presented at the end of the year to the winners of each group.

Over the past several years, The Close Up program has given students the opportunity to travel to Washington, D.C. As part of this program, students spent one week in our nation's Capitol. The week was full, and included touring, visiting museums, studying, seeing a play, and attending lectures by experts in domestic and foreign issues. The trip offered many chances for students to discuss world affairs with diverse groups of people, representatives from the military, beside the Pentagon, United States Senators and Representatives and professors from top universities in the country. The knowledge and information presented during the week impressed the participants in this program.

S.A.D.D. is in its sixth year of organization. The club's main objective is to make students aware of the dangers of driving after drinking. Informational activities leading to this objective include Ghost Day, distribution of red ribbons before major holidays and assemblies for students at the high school and middle school level. To support this goal the club plans to raise money through the sale of lollypops and a bottle drive. Initial response to this year's agenda appears great as evidenced by the 400 percent increase in membership.

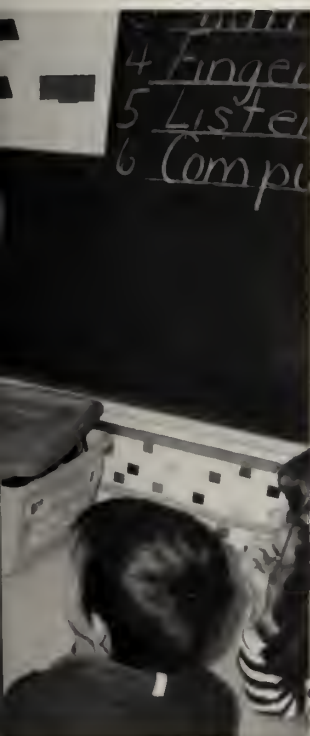

The officers for the 1992-1993 school year are: President, Malissa McCauley, Vice President, Julie Raymond, Secretary, Allison Morse, Treasurer, Kristen Jerome, and Fund-raising Director, Lalenya Lopez. Faculty advisors are Mr. Wayne Hoffman and Mr. Robert Haley.

The Chem Club realized the need in our society to have more people, especially women, involved in scientific pursuits. In order to advance this goal they visited elementary schools on a weekly basis this year. They performed exciting demonstrations and hands on activities for the children. A significant number of male Chem Club members modeled their interest in, and competence at doing science. Their first program was on the properties of gases. Later in the year they returned to the same classrooms with lessons on polymers, properties of chemical reactions, and liquid nitrogen. The children were very enthusiastic about the program. Surely, many future chemists were born this year!

P.O.P.S.

The P.O.P.S. program at Fermi includes a series of events which are designed to promote active participation and successful achievement in school through the recognition of positive attitudes and feelings of self-worth. Further, P.O.P.S. projects increase awareness of valuable life skills and concepts, such as the importance of parents' attitudes of child, the significance of self-respect and respect for others, the rewards of education, the role of attitudes and self-esteem in helping one to make responsible decisions, the personal satisfaction derived from one's altruistic efforts, etc.

P.O.P.S. began the year with the assembly of volunteer P.O.P.S. Coordinators from each homeroom to kick off the H.R. Spirit Banner competition. As with other contests, the winners were treated to munchkins and juice, or pizza and soda.

Because P.O.P.S. events are open to every student at Fermi, the H.R. Coordinators serve a valuable function in explaining activities, encouraging participation, creating new contests, carrying out projects completing contest records, representing their H.R. at meetings, etc. Coordinators have found this to be a great way to get more involved, meet other people and do things with their friends. Through the projects, coordinators acquire valuable experience and leadership skills.

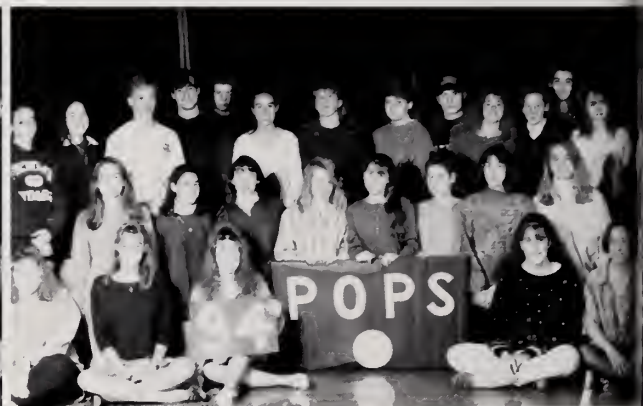

Several students donated valuable time during study periods to assist Mr. Yankee as P.O.P.S. advisor at Fermi and coordinator of the P.O.P.S. program of the Enfield Public Schools. Their efforts included collating documents, addressing and mailing notices, babysitting for parents at meetings, posting photos, making displays, etc.

The projects completed by P.O.P.S. this year include: Showcase Photo Displays and Newsclippings of school activities, Students of the Month, Birthday and Honor Roll Listings, "Our School Nurses Are Special" contest, Fermi Fight Song Contest, Mission Statement Survey — featuring "Search for the Toucan," "Positive Wear Day" and "P.O.P.S. Mystery Day," Halloween Treats for Coordinators, and Holiday Bells for staff. P.O.P.S. and Senate combined to collect soap and pencils for Ocotul, and items for the Enfield Food Shelf. The Fermi Family is to be commended for these continued expressions of concern for others.

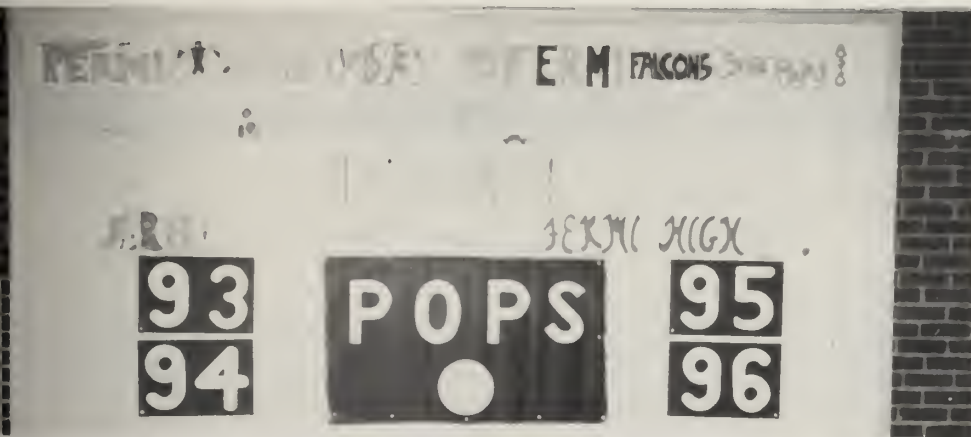

P.O.P.S. projects often enabled students and staff to work together, promoting friendship and school spirit through a variety of fun-filled activities. These activities helped to make our schooldays better and will leave lasting impressions as we reflect on our high school career.

DECA

The Marketing Program's youth organization, DECA, had a successful year as a result of well-planned activities, workshops and leadership conferences.

Tracy Brown was elected president, along with vice-president Jenifer Sever, secretary, Erica Cooley, treasurer, Tim Little, and Julie Tuomula as historian.

The newly elected officers welcomed the incoming junior members at the annual DECA installation luncheon attended by 35 new members. Lisa Graves, 1991/92 secretary and Elisha Zelina, 1991/92 treasurer transferred the responsibilities of each respective office to the new officer team. The candle-light installation program was followed with a luncheon for all DECA members. Newly elected junior representatives, Jackie Bellomo and Lisa Improta thanked the seniors for a well-planned program.

Soon thereafter, all of the officers and other members attended a leadership conference at Johnson & Wales University. The 2-day conference was challenging and informative in planning the year's club activities.

In late October, all members participated in the Halloween scavenger hunt. Nine teams of 6 members set out to find 40 unusual items. The winning team received Champion sweatshirts at the pizza luncheon.

Several members attended the North Atlantic Regional Conference held in Washington D.C. The annual conference is held to encourage students to pursue a career in the field of marketing and to become an active supporter of the local DECA program.

In addition, DECA operated the concession stand at all home football games, held a tootsie pop sale and donated the receipts to WTIC's Jimmy Fund Day. The annual spring geranium sale enabled the Marketing II students to invite their work station supervisors to the Employer Appreciation Luncheon held at Figaro's Restaurant.

In summary, DECA combined some traditional activities designed to strengthen the importance of leadership along with new unique activities designed to encourage participation, friendship and responsibility.

MATH CLUB

The Math Club is an activity open to all interested students. Members may explore areas of math in which they would like to learn additional concepts and methods, or they may review those encountered during class. Students may also participate in group competitions. Practice sessions with the graphing calculator is emphasized.

At the initial meeting in November, members explored the application of the graphing calculator in the algebra and pre-calculus classes.

Student Senate is an organization that promotes school unity and spirit. It is made up of an executive board and representatives from each class. By sponsoring a variety of programs such as spirit days, Toys for Joy, The Annual Thanksgiving Food Drive and Kiss Senior Good-bye, Senate strives to motivate students and staff to show pride in Fermi.

This year has been extremely productive for Senate; we collected over 45 items for a local food shelter and $1000 for Toys for Joy. As the yearbook goes to press, Senate is planning a special spring surprise!

members meet with teachers at a forum to learn more about the teaching profession.

The Future Teacher's Club is often the gateway to the teaching profession for many students at Fermi who are contemplating a career in education.

Formally the group meets once a month, but members do weekly tutoring at their desired grade level between meeting dates. This allows members to enter a classroom setting before college for early hands-on experience that proves beneficial not only for them but also for the teachers and students with whom they work.

Front Row: Katie Jacobs, Michelle Lee, Stacey Graham, Jackie Bellomo, Taryn Perry
Second Row: Club advisors Mrs. Cirillo and Mrs. Marek, Krissy Tobey, Beth Burke, Michelle Winick, Jill Griffin, Fran Hepner, and Club Advisor Mrs. O'Neill.

ANOTHER SUCCESSFUL YEAR

This year's chapter of FBLA was as active as ever! In providing both community service and demonstrating leadership skills, the students have gained many personal accomplishments. Angela Skowron returned from the National Leadership Conference in Chicago, Illinois with 8th place in the nation for Notetaking I. She is the first member in the history of Fermi FBLA's 22 years to win an award at the National level.

The 6th annual Craft Fair kicked off our hectic schedule. Over 100 crafters filled our halls and the gym. With the help of the membership, this major event was a big success. The "World's Largest Safest Halloween Party," also known as Trick-or-Treat Street was held on October 31. This was our 6th annual party, held in conjunction with the Enfield Park and Recreation Department. During National Education for Business Week, Jim Vicevich, from Channel 3, came to speak to many of the business classes. A field trip to Lego was conducted in the spring as part of our School and Business Partnership endeavors.

Members visited the Enfield Nursing Home for Thanksgiving, sharing their enthusiasm and brightening the spirits of the residents. The membership also wrote responses to "Santa's Letters," written by over 150 first graders from various elementary schools in town. In December, the 2nd annual Christmas Party was held for the children of the Connecticut Receiving Home in Warehouse Point. Activities included games that were prepared by the membership. Gifts were distributed thanks to donations by local companies.

Valentine's Day and St. Patrick's Day carnations were sold, with the money benefiting the Hole-in-the-Wall Gang and Loaves and Fishes.

The members' achievements and efforts were recognized as they successfully placed in the Connecticut Leadership Conference competitive events, and as recipients of various awards at the school-wide Awards ceremonies.

FINE ARTS

Members of the Fine Arts club sample international cuisine.

This is the first year we've had a Fine Arts Club at Fermi. Painting, drawing, music, cuisine, and dance are all fine arts. Our club is for those who want to get together every other Monday and enjoy learning about these areas of interest.

For one of our first meetings we watched Walt Disney's Fantasia which we really enjoyed. On our Culinary Arts Day we tasted all sorts of unique international foods. We had Italian Calzones, cheeses from around the world and assorted desserts such as pineapple pie and pumpkin bread.

Mr. Giatrakis, our advisor, is busy planning trips for us. We're looking forward to visits to museums and the symphony. We are also displaying artwork in the showcase done by our many talented students here at Fermi. With the enthusiasm generated by our activities, the Fine Arts Club has a great future.

Physics Club

Each member of the physics club is working on a different project which will be utilized as a demonstration or experiment in the classroom. Several members are building motorized plaster models of various rides at Riverside Park. They will be used to analyze the physics principles involved in each attraction. Other projects included: electrostatic demos, a laser sperograph, self-starting siphons, and testing of computer-based lab experiments.

Mr. DePino poses with Gerry Dewey, Contact person at Argonne National Laboratories and Professor Al Wattenberg, center, who worked with Enrico Fermi.

The Physics Club's LEGO model of the world's first nuclear reactor, the Chicago Pile, CP-1, built by Enrico Fermi and his staff was presented to Argonne National Laboratory on November 17, 1992. The model was placed on display at the 1992 International American Nuclear Society Meeting in Chicago as part of the historical exhibit commemorating the 50th anniversary of the birth of the atomic age! In December, the model was also displayed at a similar celebration at the University of Chicago.

The CP-1 model, along with a plaque listing the names of Physics Club Students who participated in its construction will be on permanent display at Argonne National Laboratory.

Gerry Dewey, an Argonne staff member, was instrumental in initiating the construction of the model. Harold Lichtenberger, a colleague of Enrico Fermi, served as technical advisor to the club.

The first few weeks of school, the yearbook staff was full of energy and excitement. Ideas filled the air concerning how we could make the book original — different and better than any other.

Then it came time to put our ideas to the test. With a deadline drawing near, we scrambled to get everything done while trying to make it the best yearbook ever.

Creating a yearbook takes dedication, hard work and cooperation between staff members and advisors, but we also had our share of fun. We constantly complained about "bad hair days" and how sick we all were.

The yearbook staff will sincerely miss Mrs. Burke telling tales of her non-stop commitments and Mrs. Palmer saying "you kids need to be taking pictures." Other daily dilemmas included determining "what's appropriate" and what's too risqué.

Seeing the book slowly take shape made all the hard work worth it.

MODEL U.N.

A mere 500 years ago Columbus, ending his three month journey, discovered America. Today we can reach Europe in six hours and Australia in twelve hours. With world unity came the need for world cooperation, and the United Nations was created in response to this need.

The Model U.N. in which Fermi participates is designed to give students through role-playing an understanding of how nations interact, debate, and reach compromises all in attempts to settle conflicts peacefully.

This year the Fermi club of 58 students represented Uruguay, Jordan, Algeria, Pakistan and Austria. The trip to New York City to meet the delegates of our respective countries was both fun and exciting. Topics of discussion included issues of economic, environmental, humanitarian and political significance.

The fun of the Model U.N. didn't end with New York but continued on to our debate session at the University of Hartford. Many resolutions were debated and prominent among these was one submitted by Fermi students on war crimes trials against Serbia. Such lively debates force students to assume the roles of nations other than their own and to see the world from a very different vantage point.

For the second year in a row Fermi won the award for the "Best Delegate" at the state model.

The Sabath M. Nigro Chapter of the National Honor Society has very specific purposes: to create a desire to community service, to promote leadership, and to encourage the development of character in students of Eni Fermi High School.

To assist the various charities within the community, NHS conducted a number of fund raisers. Donations from such activities as bake sales and car washes made it possible for NHS to make generous contributions to various scholarship funds as well.

The most important annual event was the induction of new members into the National Honor Society. The ceremony was a memorable one because it marked the passing of traditions and responsibilities of the organization on to one of the largest group of new members in the history of our high school.

Flight of Inspiration

I sit on my swing
Under the tree
In total darkness
Except a sole faraway flood light

Swinging higher and higher
Seeing the branches
The branches coming closer . . .

Those sparkling branches
Branches of glass
Claws of Crystal
Coming nearer, ever nearer . . .

I sit on my swing of freedom
Soaring through the skys of unlimited thought,
But the beautiful, the deadly
Claws of crystalline reality are waiting.

Reflections

Reflections, Fermi's literary magazine, is a showcase for students' creative writing. The Reflections staff reads all the work submitted and decides which pieces will be published. This is not as easy as it sounds since everything is worthy of publication. At the end of the school year the Graphic Arts Department prints the magazine, and it is then distributed throughout the school.

The Safe Graduation Committee is an organization which holds fund raisers and activities to raise money for a post graduation cruise on Boston Harbor. The cruise is a substance-free event that provides for a responsible gathering for the seniors' graduation night.

In the past the most popular fund raisers included "Pictures with Santa," "Pictures with the Easter Bunny," and "Rent-a-Senior Dance." This year's new activities include selling raffle tickets for a first prize trip to New York, participating in the Home Show and a "Cutest Faculty Baby Picture Contest."

The Safe Grad committee has been fortunate this year in getting overwhelming parental support. Parent advisors, Mrs. Zenczak and Mrs. Wayne have dedicated much time and effort into making this cruise a reality for the graduating class. We are all looking forward to it.

W I N T E R

Starting in early January, the Ski Club began a series of six, Friday night ski trips to Berkshire East Ski Resort. Two of the trips were subsequently postponed because of bad weather, and one trip was shortened by high winds that shut down the lift lines. However, by early March, all six trips were completed. A season-ending trip to the big mountains of New England was conducted. This final trip of the season will be long remembered by the members who took part. Officers for this year's club were: Eric Wyzga; President, Brian Verrengia; Vice President, Jay Chung; Secretary, and Rita Wyzga; Treasurer.

Fermi Mixed Chorus and Concert Choir began this school year under the direction of the new choral director, Ralph Patterson. Chorus officers Danielle Lussier (pres.), Kandi Cote (vice pres.), Christina MacDonald (treasurer), Stephanie Lower (secretary), and Stacey Graham (prarian) all assisted Mr. Patterson in adjusting to his new teaching assignment.

Both groups maintained a busy schedule beginning in November with the Holiday Sing-along at the Town Hall. The Field Elks Club hosted a choral program in December for their annual Memorial Sunday. The Winter Concert on December 9 included a variety of holiday selections and featured solos by David Russell, Danielle Lussier, Stacey Graham, Katy Milner, Jennifer Forino, Erin Verrengia, and Renee Rinaldi. Accompanist for the winter concert was Lauren Estvanik.

Twelve vocalists from Fermi auditioned for the All-State Adjudication Festival in January. Six of these students were selected to perform at the Eastern Regional Festival held at the University of Connecticut. Jennifer Forino, Stacey Graham, Fred Landry, Danielle Lussier, Christina MacDonald, and David Russell represented Fermi at UCONN.

David Russell was selected to participate in the 3 day All-State Choral Festival with a concert at central Connecticut State University in March.

It's dark. Your mouth is dry and your stomach does one quick flip-flop. You enter another world that was created through the efforts of many dedicated friends. The applause is thunderous, and you feel like you're walking on air. Each year this is the Lamplighter experience as students watch their weeks of effort, both on stage and behind the scenes, culminate in one triumphant moment.

This year, the Fermi Lamplighters (with the help of advisors Sue Reese and Patty Coope) produced the tension-filled drama "Lizzie Borden of Fall River." With much hard work and enthusiasm on the part of the cast, stage crew, and production team, the Lamplighters were able to let the audience decide the verdict of this famous case

... if they could!!!

While some Lamplighters may aspire to stardom, most are there to make friends, have fun, and entertain people. Congratulations to all Lamplighters for a great dramatic production, and good luck to our seniors in whatever they may do. We hope you will remember us as those who could make you laugh and make you cry.

STUDENT LIFE

Halloween

This Halloween, Fermi's hallways were packed with a variety of crazy costumes including cows, grapes, Hawaiian dancers, sailors, nerds and even a shower.

No prizes were awarded this year, but the Fermi Family showed their imagination and spirit.

To all who participated, it was a fun day.

BONFIRE DANCE

This year, for the very first time, the senior class sponsored a Bonfire-Pep Rally and Dance. The event was "HOT, HOT, HOT"; anyone there felt the extreme heat.

The bonfire-rally started at 7:00 P.M. and immediately following, everyone crowded into the cafeteria for a night of dancing.

The bonfire and dance was a huge success, and the senior treasury benefited at the same time.

Ocotal

Fermi students and staff enthusiastically pitched in for the sixth year to help the people of our "adopted" schools in Ocotal, Nicaragua: Hermanos Zamora Elementary School and Instituto Nacional of Segovia (Ocotal's regional junior and senior high school). As in the past, our gifts were shipped via Ct. "Friends of Ocotal," founded and coordinated by Planetarium Director and P.O.P.S. Advisor Mr. James Yankee and his wife, Eileen.

In November and December, P.O.P.S. and Senate coordinated the annual "Soap for Ocotal" and "Great Christmas Pencil Wrap-up" collections. F.B.L.A. continued their generous assistance with the donation of a beautiful 10-foot nature diorama, plastic jungle animals, natural science books and A-V aids. Spanish language classes wrote letters, and the Fermi Choir produced a special video greeting card at the Holiday Concert — featuring "Feliz Navidad" as scenes of Ocotal were displayed on the auditorium screen. In the school store, D.E.C.A. held its annual "Pennies for Ocotal" collection to help purchase needed supplies.

In the showcase, photos taken by Instituto English Professor Santiago Chow showed the distribution of last year's shipment to schools, nurses, doctors, farmers, etc. Printed in the daily notices, several letters from Ocotal children provided lessons in third-world economics: "The salaries (of teachers) are very little . . . and if they buy clothing they can't buy food, and if they buy food they can't buy clothing. . . . That which is earned with the struggle is not enough for the two things (food and clothing)." (from Mayling Matamoros Zeladon). Twelve year old Carlos Leonardo Antunez wrote: "I am a young boy, but suffer much to see my mama working so hard for this (to pay for his tuition, books and supplies). I preoccupy myself in studying well . . . God help and permit me one day to have a professional career for my family and for my country."

These letters helped to add special meaning to our donations.

BATTLE OF THE BANDS: A FERMI FIRST

Senate sponsored its first Battle of the Bands this year. Arranged and organized by Miss Sullivan, The Battle of the Bands raised over $1,000 for Student Senate from the sale of over 300 tickets. This performance was one of the few that brought many different people from many different cliques to share a good time. And a good time it was!

Sure there was talk of what band would win and what band was better, but on the inside it was totally different. The four bands, Deception, Leviticus, Infernal Majesty, and Excalibur, came together as allies, not as rivals and all united to make this event possible. Three bands rented the P.A. system and one band rented the mikes — when set up time came, every band was out on stage to help the others set up.

Was there really a winner? Well, in my book, every musician who set foot on stage that night was a winner. These men showed bravery and guts to get up on stage, but most of all they showed pure musicianship. Only a member of a band can explain the natural high one gets while on stage with an auditorium full of people who are cheering you on.

What made Battle of the Bands such a success? Not just the bands, but the students, the fans, and of course, the occasional mosh pit. The audience watched their peers do what they love best. No one took sides, no one booted, and no one was biased.

This was a "battle" in which everyone was a winner.

KINDRED SPIRITS

It's hard not to do a double take some days as you walk down the hall and see a brother or sister. Somehow it seems strange that siblings should be in other than home space.

We managed to track down eight pairs of Fermi siblings and get them together for a picture. Seniors seemed more than willing to impart words of wisdom to their younger siblings and here they are . . .

FLOOR HOCKEY

This year Senior Floor Hockey almost didn't happen, but thanks to the effort and hard work of class president, Sara Strachan, seniors continued the tradition of three grueling weeks of floor hockey action.

Teams this year were as follows: The Tye-Dye team, The Burnt Marshmallows; White, the Freaks; Purple, Purple Dyslexic Hippopotomi; Blue, Fat Homeless Chicks and their Sidekicks; Plaid, Real Men Wear Plaid; Black, MP's; Red, The Yodeling Logrollers, and in green, M&M's Broad Squad.

Two games were played Monday through Thursday with each team playing a total of 4 games, unless they made it to the finals, which took place the last week.

Many thanks go out to the juniors who took time out of their own busy schedules to referee every day, and to the many teachers who volunteered their one or two days a week to make senior floor hockey for 1993 a huge success.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE

Each year our school is enriched by the presence of several foreign exchange students who come to us from various parts of the world. This year we have a total of 10 students. They participate in all phases of our school lives and it isn't long before they are our friends.

Several of our own students have participated in exchange programs as well. For these students the experiences have been exciting and memorable. They all agree that a cultural exchange is the best way to learn about another culture.

Indian Excursion

Fermi Senior Amy Gamble was selected as one of eight women to represent the United States at the International Opportunity held at Sangam in Pune, India. The group joined eight other countries in a month's study session on "Women in Today's World." Highlights of the event included tours of Pune, New Delhi, and to Agra to visit the famed Taj Mahal. Exchanging swaps, tasting exotic spicy dishes, and participating as the bride in a mock marriage ceremony were some of Amy's unique experiences. Learning Hindi, riding in a rickshaw, shopping for saris and punjabis at an Indian bazaar helped to make the trip an exciting, memorable experience.

— Amy Gamble

A VISIT DOWN UNDER

This past summer, I lived in Australia for six weeks as an exchange student with the Youth For Understanding Organization. I stayed in a tiny town called D'Aguilar which is located on the North East coast of the continent. The family I lived with owned and operated a strawberry farm, and needless to say, I got to eat quite a lot of their delicious fruit.

My host family had a mother, father, brother and two sisters. This certainly took some getting used to for me as I am an only child! My host family also owned five cows, two cats, a dog, a horse and about ten chickens. On their forty acres of land, I saw wild kangaroos, koalas, and parrots.

My favorite part of the exchange program was the fact that I was actually experiencing life as real Australian people do. I know now that I have two homes; one here in the U.S., and also one in the "land down under."

— Katie Noyes

This is my first year living in U.S.A. and the best in my life. I'd like to tell thanks to the school for accepting me so late, to my teacher who helped me a lot, to my friends, especially to Melony, Emy, Hitomi, to my host family and my host sister Katie N. I love all you. You're welcome to Venezuela. Adios.

— Milena Horak

Adjusting to the American way of life has been very hard for me but I am accepting it. I do miss the little things about my grade, Yugoslavia, such as those few sentences that I exchanged with people.

I think this has been a great experience so far. You really start to realize some things you had never paid much attention to before when you meet a new culture. Both my pleasant and unpleasant experiences have been good. They have contributed to my life and together they make sense.

— Kristina Nikolich

Adjusting to the French/Alsacien way of life was rather difficult. I didn't think I would ever catch on, but after a few weeks I was dreaming in French. Although a cultural exchange is a drastic experience, it is probably the best way to not only learn a language, but to understand a culture.

— Anne Goulet

FAMILY TIES

School is a place where you hang out with your friends. But for many of our students, school is also where Mom or Dad work. This year parents and children are a congenial group who don't seem at all bothered by shared space.

Sara Strachan, a member of the National Honor Society and Senior Class President, also finds time to volunteer as a student writer for the Hartford Courant. She worked last summer doing data entry at Continental Cable. She has also volunteered to help at Paul Newman's Hole in the Wall Gang Camp and conferred with third graders at Nathan Hale.

Jamie Glenn uses her time to volunteer for local non-profit organizations as clown. She belongs to the Greater Hartford Clown's Alley 167, Pioneer Valley Clowns Alley 225 and Clowns of America International.

Christina Jarema works as a volunteer at Johnson Memorial Hospital doing a variety of jobs. Most often she helps in admitting patients, visiting patients and delivering them gifts and mail.

The Enfield Police Explorer Post is a service organization affiliated with the Boy Scouts of America. The group has 23 members who give service to the town in a variety of ways. They help with crowd control at the Annual Home Show and the Fourth of July celebration. They are involved in the DARE program as well as patrolling the Senior centers in town. From 4-10 on weekdays and for full shifts on weekends, the explorers ride with the town police officers on patrols. Fermi members are: First Row: Jennifer Gemme, Allison Cresell, Colleen Merrill, Tim Merrill. Second Row: Judy Scheele, Pxton Heckman, David Mortimer.

VOLUNTEERS

Often when we Fermites are at school, we only see each other as classmates and friends. However, we found a side of our Fermi family that doesn't deal with school and homework, but deals with caring and dedication. We applaud these people featured here for their hard work, their community service and their great attitudes.

It is through people like these that we realize school may be over at 2:00 p.m., but life continues, and for these people and many more, that means volunteer work.

Tracey Perkins serves on the youth council of her church and is a member of the handbell choir. She is also a drum major in the school band.

For a $5 yearly fee, Fermi drivers are given the privilege of parking in the school parking lot. Those who do drive to school realize the pleasure of driving and the freedom from the old yellow school bus, but they also know the pain of the inevitable 2:00 Fermi-style "rush hour," the race to find a parking space, or the long haul from the lower lot to the school — in rain, wind, sun, sleet or snow.

"Team spirit is an eagerness to sacrifice personal glory for the welfare of the team or to lose oneself in the group for the good of the team." John Wooden

The Fermi football team overcame several serious season-ending injuries and won their final three contests to finish the 1992 campaign with a 5-5 slate. Offensively the Falcons were both exciting and prolific. Two-time All-CCC East quarterback, Dave George (23 T.D. Passes, 2,088 yards passing) and All-Leaguer Jason Byrnes (1,193 yards receiving, 113 T.D. receptions) both put themselves into the program's record book and made bids for All-State recognition. Sophomore Cory Ferguson added 652 yards rushing, including a sensational 190-yard performance versus Plainville.

The club thanks Captains Jeremy Walsh and Brian White, fellow 4-year members John Field and Dave George and rookies Martin Egholm and Dave Tardiff for their fine efforts. All six individuals were positive people both on and off the gridiron and will be missed.

Girls' Soccer Fermi's Best Season

The Fermi girls' soccer team has just experienced its greatest season ever. The team presently stands at 9-3-4 and is getting ready to enter the state tournament. Standing at 3-3 the team came together and then went on a rampage to register 10 consecutive games without a loss (6-0-4).

This was a great season because all were devoted to becoming a "team." Together became the battle cry of a group more willing to play hard, play well and improve as one rather than seeking self-aggrandizement.

Senior team captain Jess Sojkowski (F.I.S.H. Award), Beth Burke (All Conference) and Colette DiBattista excelled at getting the team ready to perform at a peak level. Kate Barmak (Coaches' Choice), Rita DeAlba, (MVP) Kim Bridge (MVP) Jen Pelletier (M.U.P.), Shauna Farrell (M.I.P.), Colette DiBattista (C.T.P. Award), along with All Conference goalie Kim Bridge and All Conference Rita DeAlba combined to make this spirited team excel. This year's first-ever psych party turned into a tremendous success as P.O.P.S. photographer, Mr. Yankee, displayed the multitude of great T-shirt designs.

"912," without question, will be a season to be remembered as it was unquestionably Fermi's greatest team effort.

NEVER LOOK BACK

Running is a continuum. The longer and harder a person trains, the broader the base becomes. The deeper and broader the base a runner has, the greater the potential he has to reach a higher peak.

Fermi had such a runner this year. Jon Nipper came out of nowhere to win the class "L" state meet, shocking everyone except his teammates and coach. We knew Jon had the potential. He went on to make the all-state team by finishing 14th in the state open meet and finished 41st in the New England meet.

The boys team, led by captains Steve Griffie, Bryan Verrengia and Jon Nipper, had some close races during the season but only managed to beat East Hartford in the league. The team will miss our three senior captains next year.

The girls team was led by captains Jen Tkacz and Fran Hepner. With newcomers Caitlyn Chaffee and AnnKera Jones, the team won three meets this year. The team had a good turnout of new runners which keeps the program competitive, but we will miss our graduating senior members, Jen Tkacz, Fran Hepner, Vickie Fausel and AnnKera Jones.

New varsity volleyball players needed to reestablish volleyball team due to loss of experienced players. Uniforms provided. Players must be team workers possessing sportsmanlike conduct. They should be tall, energetic, enthusiastic, hardworking, and open to learning new skills. Tryouts August 23, 1993. See Ms. Carbone.

Soccer

NEVER GIVE UP

The 1992 season was a building season for the Boys' Soccer Team. Although the record didn't show it, the team worked hard and played hard. Todd Zenczak and Darrell Tavenier anchored the defense while Alan Patterson, Jay Bellomo, and Ryan Yanosy sparked the offense. Ryan led the team with five goals and Jay added three more. Jon Varnet and our own Spanish exchange student Enrique Arevalo were voted to the C.C.C. East All Conference Team.

FIELD HOCKEY SEASON A SUCCESS

The season saw a record turnout in August and both the Varsity and the Junior Varsity had successful seasons. Each afternoon, the hockey field was busy with distance running, drills, simulated games and each participant gave 100% to the program.

The most exciting game for Varsity was the 1-1 tie with Enfield, which blemished Enfield's undefeated status. The team again qualified for the State Tournament and played #2-ranked Simsbury in the first round, losing 1-0 in an evenly played game.

Special commendations to senior forward MaryKate Blanchfield for being selected to the All-State Class L Field Hockey team.

The ten graduating seniors will be missed by all, but their contributions to Fermi field hockey will be remembered come August of 1993. Special thanks to captains Kelly Robinson and Sara Strachan for their leadership all season.

GIRLS' SWIMMING

Senior co-captains Leigh Cowles and Jill Griffin led the girls swim team to its best record in 10 years. Its 4-7 record was really 5-6-1 when you realize that they beat Windham by 12 points but lost 13 points to diving. This was the hardest working swim team in the school's history. They practiced six days a week.

In the state M finals, Fermi placed 11th out of 19 powerful schools beating Maloney and Platt, teams that beat Fermi during the regular season. The girls swim team has been swimming a tougher schedule each year to keep competition good for our better swimmers. Leigh Cowles, who is Fermi's first great swimmer since Robin Ottman graduated in 1982, led the team to work hard enough to break 9 of 11 team records.

The future looks bright for the girls' team with nine junior high swimmers ready to bring depth to the team.

BOYS' BASKETBALL

Victory on the scoreboard is nice, but it is not the ultimate victory. The ultimate victory in competition derives from the inner satisfaction of knowing that you have done your best and that you have gotten the most out of what you had to give. Always be honest with yourself.

I believe that this year's team worked as hard as any Fermi hoop team. The Falcons were very young and inexperienced and played an extremely difficult schedule. They went through a great deal while showing a lot of class.

Fermi will miss Captain Dave Scaletta, the club's lone Senior, and wish him the best in his college career. The rest of the team looks forward to rebounding in 1993-1994.

Faced with many injuries and a loss of key players, The Fermi Girls' Basketball team had one of its most difficult season. Ann Kera Jones started the season with a stress fracture and made a speedy recovery, ending the season as one of the team's top scorers. Three weeks later, another key player, Sara Erikson, suffered a stress fracture and was left only hoping to return at the end of the season. A determined Fermi team became stronger and more willing to overcome many other challenges.

Senior tri-captains for the 1992-93 season were Mary Kate Blanchfield, Vickie Fausel, and Ann Kera Jones. And, as the only seniors on the team, each played a major role in leading the team to victory. Teamwork and effort helped to make the season a successful one.

BOYS' SWIMMING

Hard Work Pays Off

The 1993-94 team, with four great swimmers having graduated, looked like, perhaps, a 3-14 team. But Captain Jeremy Walsh led a team of 13 swimmers to a 9-8 record.

Jeremy and the rest of the team made up their minds that hard work and team spirit do win meets. Jeremy Walsh dominated the CCC East in the 200 and 500 Freestyles. Junior Matt Noto, adopting a new hard work ethic, dominated the 50 free and 100 backstroke. Sophomore Ben Steverman was seldom beaten in the 200 individual medley and 100 butterfly. Surprises came with freshman Sean Walsh in the 200 individual medley and 100 breaststroke. Two other unheralded freshmen, Scott Cowles — 200 IM and 100 Butterfly, and Tim O'Connell, 200 Free and 500 Free, gave Fermi the depth we have been lacking.

More depth came from Seniors Dave McAlmond and Randy Lebron in the Freestyle events. Senior Enrique Arevalo and Sophomore Matt Hartley added unexpected Freestyle depth. Jesse Young and Matt Hartley's diving skills provided crucial points in five close meets. Brendan Donahue and Senior Mike Furey added depth in all events.

Fermi defeated Windsor High for the first time and knocked off powerhouse Platt High School improvement due to hard work and the resulting improvements in team performance.

CCC East Champs

This year the Fermi Hockey team continued its tradition of winning. They ended the season with a 31-7 record overall and a 9-1 record in the CCC East to secure another CCC East title — which meant another hockey banner for our gym.

Captains this year were Joe Bonfiglio, Matt Stauffer and Chris Jannelle. These players and others contributed to the intensity of the Fermi Hockey team, both offensively and defensively.

Capturing in CCC East title, Fermi defeated many top-notch teams, including Newington who they beat in the race for the title, and cross-town rival Enfield High was beaten both times, once by a score of 6-3 and again 12-4.

Captains Joe Bonfiglio, Chris Jannelle and Matt Stauffer also led the forces in scoring for Fermi; providing defense were key players, senior Darrell Tavemier, junior Brian Schermerhorn and Senior Kevin Provencher in goal. All members contributed to the team's success.

Although their season was cut short by a quarterfinal loss (4-3) to East Catholic, this year's team has gone out with a BANG; they have the banner to prove it!

Cheerleading

Cheerleading has been an honored tradition at Fermi for many years. We are there to keep the team psyched and the crowd pumped. We help encourage the teams, lead the fans, and keep everyone's spirits high.

Besides being an exciting and rewarding sport, cheerleading is hard work. We strive for perfection and put in many long hours of practice and performance. Cheerleading means dedication. It is a two season sport which requires time and commitment. We have to want to be the best.

Most of all, we must have school spirit, and as far as the Fermi Cheerleaders go, we've got it! Ask any one of us — we'll say "Fermi Falcons are #1!"

May you always have . . .

Enough happiness . . . to keep you sweet.

Enough trials to . . . keep you strong —

Enough sorrows . . . to keep you human.

Enough hope to . . . keep you happy —

Enough failure . . . to keep you humble.

Enough success to . . . keep you eager —

Enough friends . . . to give you comfort.

Enough wealth to . . . meet your needs —

Enough enthusiasm . . . to look forward.

Enough faith to . . . banish depression —

*Enough determination . . . to make each day,
A better day than yesterday.*
